

About CompTIA?

CompTIA is the voice of the world's information technology (IT) industry. As a non-profit trade association advancing the global interests of IT professionals and companies, we focus our programs on for main areas: education, certification, advocacy and philanthropy.

Our vision of the IT landscape is shaped by 30 years of global perspective and more than 2,000 members and more than 2,000 business partners. We are driven by our members and led by an elected board of industry professionals.

All proceeds are directly reinvested in programs that benefit our valued members and the industry as a whole. Headquartered outside of Chicago, we have offices across the United States and in Australia, Canada, China, Germany, India, Japan, South Africa and the United Kingdom.

What is the Managed Print Trustmark?

The CompTIA Managed Print Trustmark identifies organizations that provide on-premise print services via a managed services business model. This credential goes only to businesses that demonstrate superior competency and dedication to quality service delivery. Companies displaying the Managed Print Trustmark logo have made a pledge to follow best practices that meet or exceed industry service standards.

The CompTIA Managed Print Trustmark was developed through an initiative of the CompTIA Managed Print Services Community. Members of this collaborative group (experienced industry professionals) constructed and validated the credential.:
